STORY:

Grown with love in the Grand Valley and nourished by the waters of the Colorado River (formerly the Grand River), our lively, fruit-forward grape varieties shape ríos y arroyos, our Colorado white wine blend supporting Protect Our Rivers. This blend underscores the essential link between wine and water, as pristine rivers and streams sustain our estate vineyards. Each bottle aids in preserving these crucial ecosystems through conservation and education, fostering a shared commitment to environmental stewardship. Together, we enrich our nation's waterways, blending superb wine with a pledge to make a difference, sip by sip.

TASTING NOTES:

White peach and lemon zest shine up front, driven by Albariño's vibrant acidity and citrus energy. Viognier layers in ripe stone fruit and a subtle floral lift, adding texture and breadth. Chenin Blanc tightens the frame with crisp pear, a hint of quince, and a clean mineral streak. Bright, layered, and refreshing.

VINTAGE NOTES - 2024:

The 2024 vintage in Colorado's Grand Valley will be remembered for its challenges — and its rewards. A late-spring freeze in May cut yields, but the vines rallied, giving us fruit of remarkable intensity. July's heat pushed ripening forward, while August's cooler days and crisp desert nights slowed things down just enough to let flavors deepen, acids hold, and structure develop with grace. Harvest arrived 10–12 days ahead of average, pushing crews to move quickly before fall frost, yet the fruit remained healthy, with robust skins and lively acids. Though volume was down, the quality was undeniable. The wines of 2024 shine with vibrancy and elegance — vivid aromatics, balanced sugars, and a terroir-driven energy that captures the drama and beauty of farming at the edge of the Rockies.
